ALL AMERICAN CELEBRATING 25TH ANNIVERSARY

The 2018 All American Junior Show is going to be held July 6-8, 2018 at the Indiana State Fairgrounds in Indianapolis, IN. This is a very special show as the All American is celebrating it's 25th year! The committee decided to go back to the state where it all started many years ago, Indiana. The show has out grown the smaller county fairgrounds so in order for the show to be accommodated this year it is going to be held at the state fairgrounds, as we are expecting another large show. This junior breeding sheep show has grown to be the largest in the country. The Dorset breed has been a part of this show since its inception and continues to be a major part of the show not only in sheep shown and exhibitor numbers but in support by the Dorset breeders themselves and the CDC Office.

The All-American Junior Show was the brain-child of Bill Crutcher, long-time Shepherd at Oklahoma State University, who thought the sheep industry needed a multi-breed junior show sometime during the Summer months -- preferably around the Fourth of July weekend. A meeting was held at the 1993 Midwest Stud Ram Sale with several of the breed secretaries in attendance. The All-American made its debut show July 1st-3rd, 1994 at the Monroe County Fairgrounds in Bloomington, Indiana.

The first show featured 6 breeds: Columbia, Dorset, Hampshire, Montadale, Rambouillet, and Southdown with almost 800 head of breeding sheep and market lambs from approximately 200 junior exhibitors. A wool show, Showmanship competition, and Promotional Contests were included in the first show along with the Three on Three Basketball tournament and the Top Gun Award for each breed. In 1995, classes for Cheviots, Corriedales and Shropshires were added with Oxfords soon to follow. Since then many breeds have joined this special junior show to where there will be 22 breeds participating in 2018.

In 1996, the All-American Junior Show was moved to Franklin, Indiana where it remained for a number of years and continued to grow with the addition of other breeds and an increase in the number of exhibitors. By 1997, the AAJS started a Lamb Camp for juniors 8 and younger. In 2002, having outgrown the Franklin facility, the show was moved to Sedalia, Missouri which also hosted it in 2005 and 2008. The plan was to rotate the show around Midwest locations to get new participation as well as a following to each location. The Darke County Fairgrounds at Greenville, Ohio, and the Wisconsin State Fairgrounds hosted shows along with Michigan State University. Three times the show has been held on the East Coast, twice at the Big E location in Massachusetts and 2011 in Delaware. The show has also been in Kansas, Iowa and most recently Madison, WI. The purpose of the All-American Junior Show is to provide a family vacation event for young sheep producers across the Nation, to give juniors an opportunity to meet other juniors; to help juniors learn more about the different breeds and to learn marketing techniques for pure-bred sheep.

The All-American Junior Show treats each breed alike. There is no Supreme Champion or Grand Champion Market Lamb. All class winners and Champions receive similar awards, but the premiums schedule is adjusted for larger classes. In every contest, each class winner receives an award and every exhibitor is given a T-Shirt for their participation.

The All-American is proud to not only have great competition in the show ring, but also in the other contests hosted at the event. Sam and Pat Wiford have been hosting the Skill-A-Thon for the AAJS for many years. Along with their volunteers, each exhibitor is tested on questions and activities relating to the sheep industry. Promotional contests and a wool show are also featured. In 2002, Bert Moore helped to add a Judging Contest to the All-American helping to reinforce the other skills that exhibitors should have to support the industry later in life.

The All-American Junior Show is a coordinated volunteer effort by the national breed associations & the local supporting sheep breeders, and has an annual budget of over $100,000. Each breed is responsible for a donation amount depending on how many classes that breed show will have. Numerous fundraisers and auctions are conducted each year to augment the entry fees collected in order to meet this budget. The AAJS raffle, silent auction baskets, Sedalia & Big Ohio big ticket benefit auctions and this year an online ram semen benefit sale, have helped to raise a significant portion of the funding. Thank you for your support of this special show and look forward to a great 2018!

It Has Been An Amazing Ride!

Reserve Grand Champion Ewe, Jr. Champion Ewe, 1st Place Class 1 Early Fall Ewe Lamb at the Ohio Dorset Sale. She sold to Jeilyn DeVries, IL who also bought our Reserve Jr. Champion Ram.

1st Place Class 3 Early Fall Ewe Lamb sold to Woodland Dorsets, OH.

Congratulations to...

Jeilyn DeVries and McDaniel Ranch on getting the last of the Twin Oaks brood ewes. Jeilyn added "Scarlet" Twin Oaks 1001, "Gracie" Twin Oaks 1007, and Twin Oaks 1218. "Cocktail" Twin Oaks 1203, who recently became a member of the $25,000 club, joins the elite group of ewes at McDaniel Ranch in Nevada.

A Twin Oaks Tribute – A special tribute to two legends of the purebred sheep industry who have been instrumental in the success of Twin Oaks Dorsets. Whether it be advice on breeding, feeding, fitting, or just sitting back and listening to these sheepmen as they have forgotten more about raising good sheep than most will ever know. Two great friends and mentors...

Thank You! Dave Harmann and Mike Nelsh!!!

A BIG THANK YOU!

...to everyone who has bought or bid on Twin Oaks Dorsets over the years. The 2018 Ohio Dorset Sale marked the end of a remarkable run by Twin Oaks Dorsets and the Saylor Family. We have always taken great pride in consigning some of our very best to the greatest Dorset Sale in the country. In the past 24 years of consigning to the Ohio Dorset Sale, Twin Oaks has consigned 37 Senior and Junior Champions, 18 Grand and Reserve Grand Champions, 2 breed record-selling rams, a breed record-selling ewe, and finally...

139 head have sold for an average of $2,968!

"No Doubt" was sold privately to Scotch Lane Farm, Madelyn Syme, CT. His twin sister "Annie Oakley" sold off the farm and was found under the tree on Christmas day by Rachael Gately, CT. Sired by "Geno" and dammed by the great "Cocktail". Watch for the impact of both of these stud sheep in these two programs.

The CDC will continue publishing "The Dorset Connection" three times per year with the Fall Issue being an online only publication. The Fall issue will still feature breeder display ads at a reduced rate as set-up costs still need to be met. The issue will be emailed to all CDC members, that have email addresses on file with the CDC office, and it will appear on the CDC web site during the fall months for online viewing. The Winter and Spring/Summer issues will remain printed, mailed out publications as well as being available for online viewing at the CDC website.

CDC PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

DICK REECE

I hope everyone is happy that the extra long winter is behind all of us. Our weather has gone from winter right in to summer temperatures. The pastures have been very slow in growing and hay prices have sky rocketed here in Central Illinois this spring due to the long winter season.

The spring sales have been very strong this year and the quality has been extremely good. Prices show that good stud rams are in high demand. We want to thank everyone who has nominated their ewe lambs this year and we also remind you that you can still purchase futurity lambs at Wooster, OH and the Midwest Stud Ram Sale.

This year's National show will be held at the Midwest Stud Ram Sale in Sedalia, MO. We will be having our national board meeting and breakfast. We welcome all Dorset breeders and friends to attend the CDC Annual Meeting & Breakfast Friday morning as we will also be honoring and inducting a very deserving breeder into the Hall of Fame.

The 2018 All American Jr. Show will be held in Indianapolis at the Indiana State Fairgrounds. It is the 25th anniversary for this great youth show and weekend. We would like to thank all of our sponsors and donors as this would not happen without them. Hope to see many of you there at this great family event.

Looking forward to a great summer show season with county fairs, regional shows, and state fairs. Good luck to everyone and hope to cross paths along the way.

Dick Reece, CDC President

OHIO DORSET SALE SUCCESSFULLY KICK STARTS THE 2018 SALE SEASON

The 2018 Ohio Dorset Sale was held March 16-17, 2018 at the Preble County Fairgrounds in Eaton, OH and posted a very healthy sale average in both the Polled and Horned Dorset divisions. The Horned Dorsets even enjoyed a ewe sale record being broke as the Cassell Family, Wytheville, VA sold their Champion Horned Ewe to Christopher Carroll of Kennebunk, ME at $3750.

The Polled Dorset sale averaged $1,239.04 on 73 head sold and the Horned average was $891.67 on 30 head sold. The complete sales results appears on page of this newsletter. Total numbers were down once again at this sale as Dorsets do have many opportunities this year to be sold at numerous consignment sales and the growing online sale option is becoming popular with breeders. These things are all good for the breed and the Dorset breed continues to offer up the highest quality of breeding stock, which is a true testament to a breed.

One of the major draws to a consignment sale, is to meet with fellow breeders and compete with each other to see how your breeding program is progressing and to promote those genetics. The Ohio Dorset group even starting a fun competition outside of the show ring, as they held the inaugural Dave Harmann Corn Hole Tournament. It was a great time by all and the Spilde Team "Dilly Dilly" won the tourney and donated their winnings to the Dorset show at the upcoming All American. Thank you to all!

Use Birth Weight as a Selection Tool

by Melanie Barkley
Penn State Extension Service

Would you look at the size of that lamb! We sometimes hear that statement in the lambing barn, but hopefully most lambs arrive with reasonable birth weights. However, lambs outside reasonable birth weights may need culled from the flock. Small lambs and overly large lambs both often result in added labor at timing time as well as increased losses. So, how can producers utilize birth weights as a selection tool in order to manage lamb survival? Birth weight should begin with a discussion on reasonable birth weights. Most lambs should weigh between 8 to 12 pounds at birth, depending on mature size of the sire and dam. The genetic heritability is low, but producers can still manage birth weights through genetic selection. The National Sheep Improvement Program assists producers with calculating estimated breeding values (EBVs) in order to assess the genetic influence on birth weight.

Environmental conditions have a larger effect on birth weight. However, because producers manage ewes as a group, producers can genetically select for average birth weights by culling lambs with low or high birth weights, as well as ewes that produced those lambs. However, the best option is to develop EBVs for this trait.

We refer to the characteristics we see visually for any trait as an animal's phenotype. Both genetics and the environment in which the animal is raised contribute to that animal's phenotype. In other words, the birth weight combines animal genetics with environmental influences. By making comparisons between genetically linked animals raised under different conditions, NSIP can calculate the genetic influence to a trait.

Lifetime Wool from Australia notes that 70% of lamb mortalities between birth and weaning occur within the first 48 hours after birth. The greatest factor affecting birth weight is ewe nutrition during late gestation, particularly during the last third of gestation. Nutrition not only affects the birth weight, but also affects colostrum quality and quantity as well as the vigor and health of the lambs.

Other environmental conditions that affect lamb birth weight include number of lambs in the litter, sex of the lamb, dam's age, parental breeds, plus ewe size and how many times she has lambed. "Birth weight of lambs: influences and consequences", Alexander, 1974, explores the consequences of birth weights outside an acceptable range. In general, large lambs often lead to dystocia (lambing difficulty), which can lead to lamb death, and may even lead to ewe death. Small lambs often suffer from hypothermia and die due to chilling. Their smaller size means that they have a greater surface area as compared to their body weight, which results in a more rapid heat exchange with the environment. In addition, smaller lambs often have shorter and sparser coats. Both extremes in birth weights require extra labor on the part of the shepherd to insure lamb survival.

"NSIP EBVs", written by Dr. David Notter discusses two EBVs related to birth weight: birth weight and maternal birth weight. Birth weight (BWT) EBV estimates the direct genetic influence on how much a lamb weighs at birth. This helps producers to manage birth weights for better lamb survival within their individual flock. BWT EBV can be particularly important for flocks producing mostly single born lambs with high birth weights. This EBV is also useful for producers with flocks producing large sized twins and triplets. In this instance, producers who wish to decrease birth weights would select for negative BWT EBVs. On the other hand, flocks with high lambing percentages may need to select for higher birth weights in order to improve lamb survival if those twins and triplets have low birth weights. Producers who wish to increase birth weights would select for positive BWT EBVs. If a producer is satisfied with lamb birth weights, then that producer would select for BWT EBVs near 0.

Producers should keep in mind that birth weights have a positive correlation with weaning and post weaning weights. This means that as weaning and post weaning weights increase, birth weights tend to increase also. EBVs help producers to manage this correlation so that fast growing lambs with high weaning and post weaning weights maintain birth weights within an acceptable range. Many years ago the beef industry experienced many problems with dystocia due to increasing birth weights as a direct result of selection for heavier weaning weights. That industry learned to control that affect by selecting genetics for both low birth weight and fast growth that leads to heavier weaning weight. Notter states "Maternal birth weight (MBWT) EBV estimates genetic effects of the ewe on the birth weight of her lambs. This EBV mainly reflects the quality of the uterine environment provided by the ewe and may also be influenced by ewe effects on gestation length." The usefulness of this EBV relates to the uterine environment. A favorable uterine environment should lead to healthy vigorous lambs at birth, while a poor uterine environment can result in small, weak lambs at birth.

Appropriate birth weights also benefit buyers. Buyers want averaged sized lambs for the same reasons as producers; therefore, producers should take into account the type of flocks into which they sell breeding stock. What is the typical mature ewe size for these flocks? What birth weights would be acceptable for these flocks? Satisfied buyers often return to buy more sheep and they serve as a valuable marketing tool when they share their positive experiences with other sheep producers.

As with any selection process, select EBV values for several traits to move genetics of a flock toward that flock's ideal. In this manner, producers seek to develop sheep that best match their operation's resources and markets. For more information on understanding EBVs, and how to use them, visit <http://www.nsip.org> and select the resources tab.

This past spring the CDC held director elections in the New England and Great Lakes regions. The New England Director, Mike Wright, Westmoreland, NH retired after serving his two three year terms. Thank you Mike for your service to the CDC and its members. Rachael Gately, Somers, CT ran unopposed for the position and will take office September 1st. Even though Rachael ran unopposed, she will be a great asset to the CDC board and looks forward to representing the New England region Dorset breeders.

The Great Lake members re-elected Michael Pope from Greenfield, IN to continue on the CDC board to serve his second three year term.

Thank-you to these members for running for these positions, as it is very important to get your regions represented on the CDC board. It is a small board and it does rely heavily on their member involvement and participation to function successfully for the Dorset breed.

2016-2017 CDC ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT

For the second year in a row the CDC has done well financially having a net gain to the association of $7,412.63. The CDC is operating within its means while still being able to support many youth programs. Generous donations from breeders to assist with the All American sponsorship, advertising support of the newsletter, and 1 % sale deductions for junior activities has helped tremendously.

The induction of the Dorset Advantage registry has also helped with registration revenue and the CDC continues to support shows for these sheep participation. Now, that the association is stable in its revenue once again budgeting can be done for future promotions and projects for the Dorset breed.

DORSET JUNIOR SHOWS ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Following are the eligibility requirements for the Regional Junior Dorset Shows, All American Junior Show and the National Junior Dorset Shows in Louisville for your information:

1) Exhibitor must be a current member of the CDC whether in the youth enrollment program or as a lifetime member.

2) Exhibitor needs to be 21 years old or younger as of January 1st of the current year. There is no lower age limit but the exhibitor must be able to lead and/or control the head of his/her animal in the show ring.

3) Exhibitor must be present to show their own animals unless physically impaired. The junior owner will need to be at the head of the animal controlling it in the show ring, unless of course they have more than one entry in a class in which case another junior exhibitor showing their second animal is acceptable.

4) Sheep must be registered in the youth's name. Youth partnerships are acceptable except for futurity animals which must be in the individual youth owner's name ONLY. Farm names or family" ownerships are not acceptable.

5) Exhibitor can show at an unlimited number of regional junior shows per year, the CDC does prefer they at least show at the regional show in which they reside if possible.

6) EWE FUTURITY PROGRAM:

Your futurity ewe can earn double points at a regional junior show for the futurity ewe program. If you show at more than one regional show only your top point total will be doubled.

Regional junior shows are sometimes held in conjunction with existing shows so there definitely may be other show specific rules and regulations that apply. Please be aware of these additional requirements when making out your entries to these special shows.

In 2018 the New England, North Central, Eastern and Great Plains Junior Shows will feature Dorset Advantage classes. The Great Lakes, New England, Eastern Regional Shows will also feature separate Horned Dorset classes. The All American Junior Show and the National Junior Dorset Shows in Louisville feature Polled Dorsets, Horned Dorsets and Dorset Advantage classes. There are also specific wether type classes in the Junior Polled and Horned Dorset Shows. The CDC is trying its best to promote all Dorset sheep that are being shown around the country.

2018 DORSET EWE FUTURITY PROGRAM

To date we have had 111 polled ewe lambs nominated in the spring Dorset Sales, and 44 lambs are eligible to participate in this year's program as they were bought by junior buyers. In the horned dorset ewe lamb futurity, we have had 26 ewe lambs nominated and 10 head have been bought by junior owners. There has been 12 Dorset Advantage ewe lambs nominated and 6 have been bought for participation in their division. The yearling ewe program has 5 nominations by 5 different junior owners. All these numbers are up except for the yearling ewe nominations.

We also encourage the purebred Dorset Wether Dam Ewe lambs to get nominated to participate in the futurity so junior owners will be able to get some return on their investments. A couple of years ago a wether type Polled Dorset ewe lamb won the polled ewe lamb division.

The upcoming National Sales in Sedalia will have a number of nominations along with a few online sales that are remaining that will have a number of ewe lambs nominated for the futurity program in all categories. There is a lot of futurity money being offered for Polled Ewe Lamb, Horned Ewe Lamb and Dorset Advantage Ewe Lamb divisions so, we strongly encourage juniors to purchase these animal and participate in the program to earn premiums to offset your purchase price of a quality female for your breeding programs.

Thank-you to all of the Dorset breeders for nominating their ewe lambs! The overwhelming support by the Dorset breeders is the major reason why this program has become successful. Juniors are able to select from a large number of ewe lambs that will fit into both their breeding program and financial budget.

Online sales are also eligible to sell futurity nominated ewe lambs. We strongly encourage breeders to nominate their ewe lambs. To better keep track of animals being sold online a new online futurity nomination form has been designed and is available on the CDC web site. The CDC will direct bill you for all online sale futurity nominations.

For junior buyers, the program uses the scrapie tags as the permanent identification. If a lamb loses their original scrapie tag, notification must be made immediately to the CDC office before showing the lamb again for points. You are more than welcome to send by snail mail, fax forms into the office or scan forms and email to the CDC office. Good luck and get those point record forms in on time so we can apply all eligible points to your totals.

YOUTH DORSET EWE PURCHASE GRANT PROGRAM

The National Junior Dorset Association and the CDC introduced a grant program for youth to use towards the purchase of a Dorset ewe. The associations awards three $500 grants annually to be used towards the purchase of a registered Dorset female.

The purchase does not need to be done through a public consignment sale as on farm purchases are also eligible. The program is open to youth in three age divisions: Junior 8-10 years; Intermediate 11-14 years and Senior 15-18 years. An individual may win each division only one time. The applications are due December 1st of the current year. The winning applicants will receive their grant money upon the completed transfer of the ewe purchased into their names during the award year of the grant. Ewes purchased may be of any age or type of registered Dorset, but may not be purchased from a family member. A very simple one page application form is available on the CDC website or you may contact the CDC office to forward you a copy.

NATIONAL JUNIOR DORSET ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT ALLISON SMITH

Looking into the future of the Dorset breed, we must be ready to prosper and grow to be successful. The youth and showman of this generation will soon be the leaders and breeders of the Dorset breed. I truly believe the breed is thriving at one of the highest points in its time with having such diversity to offer. Throughout the country we see many different styles and takes on the breed, and that is one of the great things the CDC offers. Coast to coast, Dorsets are thriving in all aspects. Whether it is in the show ring or on the farm, our breed rises above for their dual purpose features that many other breeds can't offer.

Just one of the many reason I started raising Dorsets was the great members on the CDC board, and the people in the industry. Whether they raise frame sheep, or Dorset advantage, the people who have a passion for Dorsets in this industry really have the best intentions.

As summer approaches, we become into the swing of several shows that all youth look forward to every year. Whether it is the All American, Midwest Preview Show, or your state fair, Dorset members all across the nation pull to shows to have a great time, and to see the breed thrive. We work with such a great set of youth, of all ages, that truly represent our association to a high extent. Us a breeders, showman, and members, we could not ask for a better set of kids to represent the breed we all cherish and love!

Allison Smith, NJDA President

The Midwest Junior Preview Show is going to be June 2, 2018 at the Missouri State Fairgrounds in Sedalia, MO. This is a great junior show that has been developed for our juniors to participate and enjoying what they do best, showing sheep. Online entries are closed but you can enter when you go to the show. This show operates off donations. The CDC contributes and we encourage other breeders to offer up support also.
