POLLED DORSETS

K Bar K Farm owned by Ken, Kathy & Nathan Soder of Petersburg, Pennsylvania was selected as the 2008 Polled Dorset Excellence Award Winner. The Soders have been raising purebred Dorsets for 12 years and currently run a 125 head brood ewe flock. The Soder flock would be categorized as a production oriented polled Dorset flock. Their major emphasis has been to develop an animal that excels in a forage based nutritional system to produce hot-house and freezer lambs with minimal labor and feed costs. The flock goes through a very aggressive selection process in which production traits are evaluated through a national genetic database, to date they have over 1,000 individuals recorded.

Kathy writes, "Our flock goal is to produce high-quality Dorset rams and ewes using state-of-art objective evaluation combined with traditional selection tools. Our emphases include out of season breeding; ewes with strong mothering and milking ability that have good udders; prolificacy; growth; and carcass traits. We raise our Dorsets in a low-input, forage based system. We use a combination of selection tools, including objective genetic selection through expected breeding values (EBVs) including ultrasounding loin eye depth."

The Soders have imported genetics from other countries that emphasize the production traits they are looking for. Through their aggressive selection program they have been able to increase their weaning weights by 160%, post weaning weight by 340%, loin eye depth by 230% and maternal weaning weight by 20%. The majority of their brood ewe flock lambs in the fall and January, and raise multiple birth lambs. They have been able to breed a Dorset female that not only survives on a forage only based diet but have thrived on the program producing fast-growing lambs and breeding back in a timely continued on page 5

HORNED DORSETS

The 2008 Horned Dorset Excellence Award Winner is Gregg & Marlene Bell of Ewephoric! Dorsets from Shafter, California. The Bells have been raising Dorsets for over 20 years. They started out raising Polled Dorsets and then converted over to Dorset Horneds just a few years ago. They currently run approximately 50 Horned Dorsets and are building up their flock as they maintain about 60% of their lamb crop to go back into their breeding program. The rest of their lambs are sold off the farm and at consignment sales for replacement breeding stock, and ethnic lamb sales. The Bells expose all of their flock for fall and January lambing, and about 85% of the ewes actually lamb during that period.

Marlene states that their breeding program goals are, "Our flock strives to make Dorset Horns better not necessarily bigger. We are geared to supporting the natural traits of the breed like fall lambing, mothering, milking, production and natural muscling. By preserving these traits we hope to move more of this to the Dorset Horns of the show ring today. We not only like sheep, we feel a tremendous calling to raising the breed right. Keeping them as pure as possible is our goal with the Dorset Horns so that those coming after us will have fantastic experiences as we have had with the Dorset breed."

With the flock being located in California, the sheep forage on pasture most of the time and are supplemented with alfalfa hay, protein blocks and concentrates are added just prior to lambing and through lactation. The average age of their breeding females is relatively young at 3 years of age, as they converted over to Horneds recently, and their lambing percentage is running about 170% with these young ewes. Their Horned Dorset ewes run 31" tall and 32" long and continued on page 7 manner. Winter born lambs have access to a creep feeder that has high quality alfalfa hay and a limited amount of concentrate, but that is about the only concentrate that is fed on the Soder farm. Their Dorsets run 28-30 inches tall and 32-34 inches long making them ideal to thrive in their management program and to meet their production goals. 30% of the lambs are sold as hot-house lambs. The Soders have also developed a strong registered breeding stock sale base as another 30% of the lambs go into this market.

K Bar K Farm is a very strong Dorset promoter. They have conducted farm visits and field days to promote their sheep and forage based production system. They have also made presentations at state and regional sheep conferences regarding Dorset sheep, their management system, performance records and biosecurity. K Bar K Farm has been a Pennsylvania Ram Test consignor for 10 years and even has had a booth at the event promoting their Dorsets. K Bar K rams have repeatedly been top performing Dorsets finishing in the top five, as well as having the largest adjusted loin eyes four out of the last five years. The farm advertises in various sheep related publications, including the Dorset Connection, as well as on the internet through sheep related listservs and message boards. Kathy was the person who established the listserv for production Dorset breeders on the web. It currently has over 300 members with the purpose of discussing and promoting Dorset sheep.

Kathy is also a current member of the CDC Production Dorset Committee. K Bar K has a website and you can visit them at www.kbarkfarm.com to learn more about their Dorset sheep.

Kathy & Ken Soder summarize, "Our primary goal has been to produce a Dorset that works for the buyer, not the other way around. It has taken time and experimentation, but with our objective genetic selection program, we feel we are now producing an animal that can excel in forage-based systems to produce hothouse and freezer lambs with minimal labor inputs and reduced feed inputs. With proper selection, the Dorset sheep breed has a distinct advantage over other meat-producing livestock species to produce a high-quality meat product with fewer inputs, thereby improving profitability in an era of escalating input prices."

The CDC will be presenting Ken, Kathy and Nathan with their award at the upcoming Pennsylvania Ram Test Sale in early August. Congratulations to the Soder Family for this achievement!

the rams are 34" tall and 36 1/2" long. They emphasize breeding the complete Horned Dorset that exemplifies breed character and maintains all the production traits that the Horned Dorset breed is known for.

Gregg & Marlene are great promoters of the Dorset breed. They promote their own flock by maintaining a farm website, advertising in major sheep magazines and through direct mail promotions. On their website they feature a sheep management tips section to help with the promotion of sheep. These articles are updated every few months and are written by them. The Bells are innovative marketers as they are now featuring a Dorset Buyer Incentive Program for their breeding stock and a website contest drawing each month. Marlene is also highlighting her artistic talents by creating a custom sheep art business where one can submit a photograph of their sheep and she will create an oil painting from the photo. Marlene has taken on the daunting task of writing a book on their sheep experiences. The book will be available sometime this year. Visit the Bells at their website at www.ewephoric.com to learn more about their Horned Dorsets, custom art, upcoming book and sheep gifts.

The Bells have been great supporters of the Dorset breed as a whole. In recent years they have been the sponsors of the Best Headed Dorset Awards at the National Dorset Sale. They also have been instrumental in the development of the Dorset Excellence Program and are sponsoring awards in the initial year of the program. When asked, Marlene has also contributed to the CDC Breed Standard Committee by writing the Dorset Judges Standard of Excellence Road Map, a document that breaks down the Dorset Breed Standard that is used as part of the Dorset judge educational materials. The Bells have also been leaders of a local 4-H Sheep Club and are members of several sheep and wool organizations including the ASI and the California Dorset Association.

Congratulations to Gregg and Marlene on winning this award! They have championed the Dorset breed for many years and their efforts are very much appreciated and welcomed. The CDC will be presenting the award to them at the Nugget All-American Sale in Sparks, NV, a sale where they have been Dorset consignors over the years and will be there this year with their first Horned Dorset sale consignment.

LETTER FROM CDC PRESIDENT MIKE GALLEHER

Greetings from Ohio. As the weather finally warms up and the grass begins growing, the rams are in and we are looking forward to a new crop of fall lambs from a new stud ram. While other breeds are completing their lambing, Dorset breeders are looking ahead to the fall. The fall lambing traits gives our breed many advantages over other breeds. We have lambs to sell at times of lower supply, and we also have the versatility to time our lambing to meet ethnic market demands.

Our breed needs to continue to promote the excellent traits that make Dorsets different. What are you doing to promote our breed? Many of you work with 4-H and FFA members to promote and grow our breed by providing sheep for judging contests, helping young people with production advice, and sponsoring awards at various shows during the year.

Ohio Horned Dorsets breeders sponsor a flock starter program to involve new young people in the breed. Each year, a ewe lamb is given to a 4-H or FFA member to show at their county fair and the Ohio State Fair. Then the ewe is bred so that the young person can begin their flock.

Another way to promote your flock is to enter the Dorset Excellence Program this year. Congratulations to this year's winners. Now is the time to begin putting your application together. Not only is there a cash prize but, there will also be free publicity for your flock.

If you have not sent in the member survey, please send it in as soon as possible. The board wants to know your opinion on these important issues. Thank you to those members that have already sent in your surveys.

I look forward to seeing you at the sales, youth shows, and fairs this summer and fall.

Mike Galleher, CDC President

FEATURE ARTICLE

OHIO DORSET SALE KICKS OFF 2009 SALE SEASON IN HIGH FASHION!

Champion Polled Ram - Spring Yearling Ram
Rick Klampe, Jefferson, OR
Sold to Larry D. Inbody & Family, Jenera, OH

Every spring when March rolls around and the Dorset breeders merge onto Eaton, Ohio for the Ohio Dorset Sale, expectations are always apprehensive, more so than any other sale because it is the first of the new sale season and all breeds look upon this sale as a barometer of things to come. Well, they won't be disappointed this year as the Ohio Dorset Sale was a strong one even in these not so promising economic times. It is the quality of Dorset sheep that are offered at the Ohio Sale that make it a strong one. The judge commented that it was the best set of females that he has ever judged in any breed. A true testament to the Dorset breed and its breeders!

Champion Horned Ram - Late Fall Ram Lamb
Spring Hill Farm, Westmoreland, NH
Sold to Keegan Padgett, Kirklin, IN

The Polled Dorset sale sold featured 193 head that sold for an average of $1,023.19, a top five average. Rams were fewer in numbers than 2008 but averaged $1,354 on the 43 head sold. Breeders brought only their very best and those they considered to be potential stud rams. The strongest ewe classes were the early fall ewe lambs as they sold for an average of $1059.38 with the late fall ewes not far behind at a $964.29 class average. The Polled Dorset breeders should be commended on their support of the futurity program. Almost 100% of the ewe lambs were nominated for the futurity program as 63 head were nominated and almost half of them were tattooed by their new junior owners. The strength of the futurity program has been a real attribute to the breed. The yearling ewes were very deep in quality and the top end held up very well. If there was a soft spot in the sale it was in the random draw portion of the yearling classes as some very good quality ewes went for a little less money than warranted. On the whole, where there weren't any extreme high dollar individuals skewing the average, it was one of the good ones!

What can you say about the Horned portion of the sale, records were broken once again! The sale not only sold more Horned Dorsets that it ever has, it broke the sale average record also. The 56 head sold averaged $685.71. The Horned Dorset Ewe record was broken as the Champion Ewe from Cassell Horned Dorsets of Wytheville, VA sold for $3000 to Ridge Betts of Felton, DE. Congratulations to both! The fall yearling ewe class and late fall ewe lamb classes were the powerful averaging classes of the sale. The yearling class had a $966.67 average and the ewe lamb class had a $887.50 class average. This is the second year for the Horned Dorset ewe lamb futurity program and 22 ewe lambs were nominated, of those 12 were tattooed for participation and 7 came out of that strong late fall ewe lamb class. Should be an interesting summer!

Champion Polled Ewe - Fall Yearling Ewe
Harold & Linda Tyson, Kempton, PA
Sold to Superior Farms, Yukon, OK

Congratulations to Riverwood Farms, Powell, OH and Cassell Horned Dorsets, Wytheville VA for receiving the Townsend Best Consignment Awards in the polled and horned divisions respectively. Well deserved winners, as the buyers also thought so proven by their sale averages.

Make plans for the 2010 Ohio Dorset Sale as it is going to be a very special one, as it will not only be the 2010 National Dorset Sale but the sale will be celebrating its 50th Year Anniversary! See you next year at this very special event for the Dorset breed.

USING THE RAM EFFECT TO YOUR ADVANTAGE

by Melanie Barkley

Penn State Extension Educator

A very simple principle for sheep producers to use to increase their lambing rate as well as decrease the length of lambing season is to use the ram effect. There are a few key points to keep in mind to take advantage of this simple procedure.

The ram effect occurs when the ram secretes pheromones, which are basically chemical substances, that induce ewes to come into heat. The smell of these pheromones stimulates non-cycling ewes to ovulate. This hormonal substance is secreted in the wool wax. These pheromones give rams their distinctive odor during breeding season.

In order for the ram effect to work, rams need to be housed away from the ewes for at least a month. This housing must be located far enough away that ewes are not able to smell the rams: a pen in the barn next door will NOT work. Rams may need to be housed as far as a mile away from the ewe flock. Once the ram has been introduced, ewes should come into heat about 17 to 18 days after their introduction or 24 to 25 days after their introduction to the ewes, according to Pipestone veterinarian J.D. Bobb.

Dr. Bobb also states in his International Sheep Letter (Vol. 19, No. 5, July 1999) that ewes will show a silent heat about 2 to 3 days after the ram has been introduced to the ewes. This "jump starts" the reproductive cycle so that the next ovulation (17 or 24 days later) should be a fertile heat period. If a ewe doesn't settle on the first breeding, she should come back into heat in 17 days on the normal cycling period in the fall of the year. When breeding during the spring, she may or may not continue to cycle due to increasing day lengths.

Another advantage to using the ram effect is that ewes will tend to come into heat in a group rather than scattered over a period of time. This will then result in a larger portion of the ewes lambing in a shorter amount of time. Because the ewes are coming into heat in more of a group, it is also important to have enough rams to cover the ewes in this shorter period of time. A good rule of thumb is to have 4 to 5 mature rams available to breed 100 ewes.

Another point to stress with the ram effect is that because it stimulates non-cycling ewes to ovulate, this effect works best during July and August when most of the ewes are not currently cycling. A teaser ram can be a very useful addition to the flock prior to the breeding season because he can start bringing ewes into heat. A teaser ram is a ram that was vasectomized as a lamb. A fertile ram can be turned in with the ewes two weeks later and thus the ewes will get bred earlier in the year. This may or may not be to your advantage as a sheep producer, depending on the marketing situation for your lambs.

From a management standpoint, using the ram effect can certainly be to your advantage. It can save you hours in the barn during a shorter lambing season and your lambs will be more uniform in age and size for marketing after weaning. In addition, it can start ewes cycling earlier so that lambs are born earlier in the season.

Ewes can be encouraged to start cycling earlier in the fall when a teaser ram is introduced about two week prior to the start of the breeding season.

Please remember as consignors to nominate your ewe lambs, and as buyers to get your lambs tattooed before you leave the fairgrounds. All the regional junior shows are to held after this sale so juniors have the opportunity to attend the maximum numbers of shows for point gathering.

GREAT LAKES & NEW ENGLAND CDC DIRECTORS ELECTIONS RESULTS

This past spring the CDC held director elections in the Great Lakes and New England Regions. Great Lakes Director Mike Galleher, Mt. Gilead, OH has been re-elected to serve his second consecutive term. Mike is also currently serving as President of the CDC.

New England elected a new director in Alan "Hoop" Peterson of Leyden, MA. This is Hoop's return to the CDC Board as he served on the board back in 2003-2006. Hoop will be replacing current director Frank Tiffany, Norwich, NY. Many thanks go to Frank for his service on the CDC Board! Frank is the CDC webmaster and will continue serving in this very important capacity. Thank-you Frank for all your contributions you made to the CDC board!

CDC MEMBER SURVEY REMINDER

This will serve as the final reminder to CDC members, adult and junior, to fill out the member survey that appeared in the last Dorset Connection and mail it into the CDC Office. The surveys will be reviewed by the CDC directors at the upcoming annual board meeting at the end of May. The purpose of the survey was to get opinions of all CDC members on important issues facing the Dorset breed. Your input is greatly appreciated! The survey is also available at our website: www.dorsets.homestead.com

ANNOUNCING SUMMER/FALL CDC OFFICE CLOSINGS

The CDC Office remains committed to providing the best service to our breeders on registration work but due to some budget constraints we are cutting back on outside help in the CDC office. We will still be able to provide you with timely service but there are times when I will be out of the office in this busy upcoming sale and show season. Please make note of these times and plan accordingly:

-May 26-June 1, 2009 - National Dorset Sale & Annual Meeting

-July 3-8, 2009 - All-American Jr. Show

-July 16 & 17, 2009 - New England Sale & New England Regional Jr. Dorset Show

-August 2-9, 2009 - Secretary's Vacation

-September 14-30, 2009 - Eastern States Exposition Sheep Show

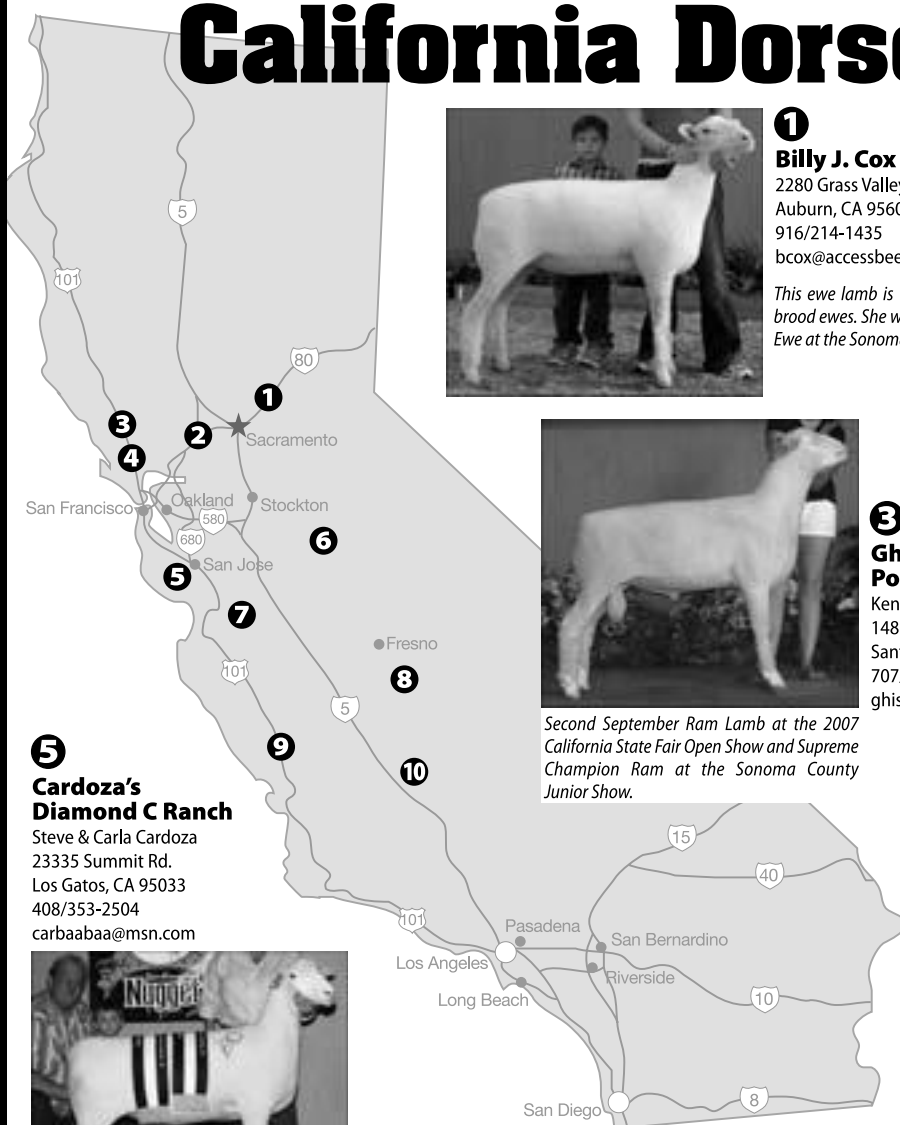

DORSET CONNECTION NEWSLETTER AVAILABLE ON WEBSITE

The current issue of the Dorset Connection newsletter is now available at the CDC website. For the past two issues we have been posting the newsletter on the website to get information out as soon as possible. This version is actually available before many of you get it in the mail as we can post it when the newsletter gets printed, cutting out mailing time.

Don't worry, there are no plans at this time to go just with a web version as we know how important it is to the majority of you to receive a hard copy in the mail. Besides we use the newsletter as an important promotion tool and it is still the best way to disseminate information to Dorset breeders and our CDC members.

REGIONAL JUNIOR SHOW ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Following are the eligibility requirements for the Regional Junior Dorset Shows for your information:

1) Exhibitor must be a current member of the CDC whether in the youth enrollment program or as a lifetime member.

2) Exhibitor needs to be 21 years old or younger as of January 1st of the current year. There is no lower age limit but the exhibitor must be able to lead and/or control the head of his/her animal in the show ring.

3) Exhibitor must be present to show their own animals unless physically impaired. The junior owner will need to be at the head of the animal controlling it in the show ring, unless of course they have more than one entry in a class in which case another junior exhibitor showing their second animal is acceptable.

4) Sheep must be registered in the youth's name. Youth partnerships are acceptable except for futurity animals which must be in the individual youth owner's name ONLY. Farm names or "family" ownerships are not acceptable.

5) Exhibitor can show at an unlimited number of regional junior shows per year, the CDC does prefer they at least show at the regional show in which they reside if possible.

7) EW E FUTURITY PROGRAM:
Your futurity ewe can earn double points at a regional junior show for the futurity ewe program. If you show at more than one regional show only your top point total will be doubled.

Regional junior shows are sometimes held in conjunction with existing shows so there definitely may be other show specific rules and regulations that apply. Please be aware of these additional requirements when making out your entries to these special shows.

DORSET EWE LAMB FUTURITY PROGRAM GETTING ANOTHER GREAT START IN 2009

To date we have had 90 polled ewe lambs nominated in the Ohio Dorset and Illinois Dorset Sales, and 41 lambs have been tattooed by new junior owners to participate in this year's program. In the horned dorset ewe lamb futurity, we had

LETTER FROM NJDA PRESIDENT SIERRA INBODY

Hello Members,

Hope the sales are going well for everyone. I know the Ohio Sale had an extremely good showing. With the end of spring and school or classes comes the beginning of show seasons with state fairs, county fairs, and regional and national shows all starting. But first we still have several upcoming sales including the national sale in Reno and the Mid West Stud Ram Sale.

I'm hoping that many of you are planning on joining me at the All-American Jr. Show in Greenville, Ohio over Fourth of July weekend. The National Jr. Association will have their annual cook-out/get-together on Saturday and then both the Horned and Polled show Sunday morning. But along with the show there are numerous other activities for the family including three-on-three basketball which kicks off Friday night with the pizza party, showmanship, judging contests, the pool party Saturday night, etc. And we would like to thank those of you that have signed up to sponsor classes for the show it is greatly appreciated. We would also like to thank Mark lunghuhn, who donated the Horned we lamb that will be sold at Sedalia, and Twin Oaks Dorsets, who donated the Polled ewe lamb that was sold at the Ohio Sale, the money raised from both of these ewe lambs benefit the youth that take part in the All-American. So thank you very much to all of our sponsors and donors.

Also, please remember that if you bought a futurity nominated ewe lamb and you got her tattooed, that if you show her at a regional show you will receive double the points that you would normally receive. Debbie has included, in this issue, a list of when and where all of our regional shows will be located. Hope everyone does well with the rest of the sales and looks forward to show season beginning. Hope to see you all this summer at the shows.

Sierra Inbody

22 ewe lambs nominated at the Ohio Dorset Sale and 12 head were tattooed by their new junior owners.

Five breeders have elected to participant in the group nomination program where all of their ewe lambs sold at this year's designated sales will be eligible for the futurity. Thank you to the following group nominators:

-Riverwood Farms, Powell, OH-
-Superior Farms, Yukon, OK-
-Spilde Brothers, Stoughton, WI-
-Pine Ridge Farm, East Berlin, PA-
-Cassell Horned Dorsets, Wytheville, VA-

Of course there are a lot of individual nominators also. The overwhelming support by the Dorset breeders is the major reason why this program has become so successful! Juniors are able to select from a large number of ewe lambs that will fit into both their breeding program and financial budget. There are plenty of sales remaining where junior buyers can select futurity ewe lambs. See the sales listed in the Dorset Calendar on page 6.

Our Best Sale Season Ever!

1st Late Fall Ram Lamb 2009 Illinois Dorset Sale

Thanks to the Woods Family of Bayliss, IL, for their purchase of this "Road Runner" son.

In our 27 years of raising Polled Dorsets, this was our best sale season ever. We are sold out of yearlings and fall lambs at this time. However, we will offer for sale our top show fall ram lamb (sired by "Buckeye Bandit") after the Kentucky State Fair. We still have two very promising spring ram lambs and a real nice spring ewe lamb for sale at the farm now...all sired by "Road Runner". If these lambs are not sold soon, they're headed to the Great Lakes Show & Sale in Wooster, Ohio, May 23-24.

THANKS TO THESE RECENT BUYERS...

Sam Dean, Jamestown, OH - BMF 1305 yearling ram (1st Place Slick Shorn Fall Ram Lamb 2008 NAILE) and 7 brood ewes

James & Jake Mingus, Tipp City, OH - 2 Oct. Ewe Lambs

Woolly Ridge Farm, Pleasant Plain, OH - Sept. Ram Lamb

Kevin Eipers Family, Claremont, MN - Sept. Ram Lamb

Roy Campbell, Blairsville, PA - Sept. Ram Lamb

Dick O'Banion, Jamestown, OH - Sept. Ewe Lamb

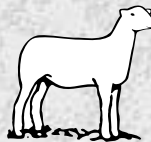

Sheryl Fullerton, Loomis, CA - Sept. Ram Lamb, Sept. Ewe Lamb and a Dec. Ewe Lamb

...AND A HUGE THANKS TO...

John Paul and Kathleen DeJoria & Family of Newburg, OR - They purchased seven head from us this spring, four of which were from our show flock! Watch for this elite show flock on the West Coast this summer.
